

The Hedberg, Hobart, Australia

Tasmania's most ambitious arts project counts on Securiton

Reference Report

Co-located with the historic Theatre Royal, The Hedberg includes world-class performance venues, a new home for the Conservatorium of Music, integration of the two-storey Hedberg Garage and accessibility to all levels of the Theatre Royal.

The Hedberg is a creative industries and performing arts project enhancing Hobart's beloved Theatre Royal. It is one of Tasmania's most ambitious arts projects - a $96 million development.

The design incorporates cutting-edge technologies and invites public spaces to enhance Tasmania's position as a leader in performing and digital arts.

The precinct aspires to be a destination that delivers a vibrant and exciting place for a range of audiences - the public, tourists, researchers, educators and students.

Securiton delivered Early Warning Smoke Detection based on highly sensitive ASD 531 and ASD 532 Aspirating Smoke Detectors to The Hedberg.
